

2010 FRIEDA MILLER CONSERVATION EDUCATION AWARD

JARED LARSON

Based on the dedication and contribution of educators to the future of conservation, the 2010 Frieda Miller Conservation Educator Award was given to Jared Larson.

Jared is the McMinnville High School Science Department Chair and is the lead for the Natural Resources Management and Environmental Science Career Pathway Program. Jared's programs have impacted over 1,000 students this year. Students have conducted fish population counts, measured timber, and surveyed wildlife.
