

2010 URBAN CONSERVATIONIST AWARD

JUDGE JOHN L. COLLINS

The Urban Conservationist Award, based on innovation and implementation of conservation practices in an urban land setting, was awarded to Judge John L. Collins of McMinnville.

Judge Collins worked to secure funding to make the Yamhill County Court House more energy efficient. An ardent recycler, Judge Collins graduated from Marion County's Master Recycle program a few years ago. He commutes via bicycle daily and has made extensive home improvements to save water and energy.
