Frieda L. Miller Conservation Educator Award 2017

Nomination Form

Yamhill Soil and Water Conservation District

The Conservation Educator Award recognizes the outstanding contribution of an individual or organization that is actively providing conservation education to youth or adults in Yamhill County. The Conservation Educator Award is named after Frieda L. Miller whose gift of Miller Woods has strengthened environmental science and conservation education in Yamhill County.

Requirements: The nominee may be a full or part-time teacher, a volunteer, or responsible for delivering a conservation or environmental program as part of a company or agency.

Information requested below will serve as a guide for selecting an award winner. If the nomination is successful, the district requests the person making the nomination and/or the nominee to assist with a short presentation and newsletter/web article outlining their conservation practices. The winner will be invited to the district's annual meeting/dinner scheduled for Wednesday, October 18, where they will be recognized and receive their award.
